

LEGION FIGHTS FOR SOLDIER BONUS

MONTH OF WAR IS AS GREAT A COST

National Commander Says Whole Nation Is on Veteran's Side.

(By the Associated Press)
CHICAGO, July 16.—The fight of the American Legion for the soldier bonus will be continued with renewed vigor, said Major H. G. Emery of Grand Rapids, Michigan, national commander of the Legion, in commenting today on the "side-tracking" of the bonus bill in the senate.

"If the war had continued for another thirty days," he asserted, "it would have cost the government as much as the proposed adjustment compensation program."

Major Emery was here attending the convention of the national association of real estate boards.

"The American Legion program still stands," he said. "We will immediately start a fight for the bonus all over in the house. Our program stands endorsed by two conventions of the Legion, that at Minneapolis in 1919 and that at Cleveland in 1920. We are practically assured that the Sweet bill will be passed."

Harding All Wrong.
"We consider President Harding all wrong in his attitude. Why, the senate finance committee in its report declares untrue the claims advanced that the Sweet bill and the adjustment compensation program will bankrupt the treasury."

Major Emery asserted that the Legion has a well defined program to fight for the bonus and this has will not be modified.

"There was at first considerable opposition in the Legion itself to the program but this has now subsided," he said. "Where it existed it was on the part of men well off financially. We have now induced these men to devote their share in the compensation to the men who need it. There are now several millionaires among the strongest supporters of the program we have."

"The wounded and disabled will be taken care of first and then comes those in financial straits due to the war."

"The country as a whole is with us in this. Only Washington, the banks and the associations of commerce are against us."

RAINBOW VETERANS ASK FOR BETTER RELIEF

(By the Associated Press)
CLEVELAND, July 16.—A resolution declaring for more adequate soldier relief was ready for presentation at today's session of the second annual convention of the Rainbow division veterans. The bonus question was left over for the last business meeting.

Rennie Avenue Men Met on Graveling Plan Friday Night

A meeting of property owners of Rennie avenue was held last night at the home of L. A. Braly, Fifth and Rennie and an informal discussion of the advisability of graveling the street was held.

J. F. Jackson acted as chairman, and after a free discussion of the subject it was unanimously agreed that the street be reduced to grade, according to engineer's plans and specifications, thirty feet wide, including curb and gutter and graveled ten inches thick, wet and rolled to eight inches.

The chair appointed John W. Beard, L. A. Braly and J. C. Hynds as a committee to draft plans and specifications for such improvement and to secure and receive bids on a cash payment basis. A report will be made to another meeting of the property owners next Tuesday night at 7 o'clock at the same place.

JULY 20 IS DATE SET FOR HEARING ON MARTIN CASES

July 20 has been set for the preliminary hearings of Jim Good, Dick Chapman, and Obey Dyer, arrested last week and charged with the murder of George Martin at Roff last May. Their hearings will be before Justice of the Peace H. J. Brown. All are being held without bond.

Frank McClintock is another who is being held in the county jail awaiting his trial in district court here next October on a charge of killing Martin. He was denied bond recently by the criminal court of appeals.

There's A Little Meanness And Some Goodness in All. Justice Says of Laws That Rule Society

Every man is a criminal, to a certain extent.

The difference between the man behind the bars and the one who runs free is a matter of who gets caught and who doesn't.

And there is seldom a criminal, even of the deepest dye, who would not see law and order prevail after all is said and done.

This is a few of the deductions that have been made by Justice of the Peace W. H. Fisher, who, after studying the courts, criminals, and even convicts behind the penitentiary bars, has decided that the criminality that convicts and puts behind jail bars is but little more than high development of that strain which we all have in us to a greater or less degree.

"It is surprising to note the in-born reverence which most men have for the laws of society," Justice Fisher said today. "We sometimes are led to believe that the man in prison garb is always chronic bolshevik who would revolutionize society and overthrow law. But I have had it shown to me to my complete satisfaction that this is not the case."

Then Judge Fisher related a bit of his experience as an overseer at the building of the penitentiary walls at McAlester years ago. An unruly prisoner was to be punished. Scorned to take advantage of the unarmed man, the overseer did the job with his bare hands, only after a long fight. As he stood over the conquered convict, a lifer who was standing near grinned with satisfaction.

Lifer Was Ready
"I was waitin' for him with this

shovel if he got the best of you, boss," the veteran prisoner said calmly.

In all his experiences with men of sundry types, he has scarcely found a one who would not have the rules of society enforced in the end, the Justice declared. And often some of the noblest sentiments come from inveterate law breakers who in all their bitterness toward society, still have within them a lingering spark of humanity, according to the judge.

Another remarkable thing, as set forth by the judge, is the unintentional outcropping of the criminal within every man, sometime in his life. "We are lucky never to have slept inside of a jail—just for the little mean things we have done without thinking," he said, adding an account of his experience at one time with a grand jury in the earlier days of Texas.

"We had almost completed our hearing of the case. All of the witnesses except two had been examined and the jury was about ready to vote on the bill. While we delayed, with nothing to do, someone suggested we hold a 'true meeting' of all our town. Beginning with the foreman, every man on that jury told of something he had done that deserved a spell in jail. One man, however, stoutly declared he had done nothing in his life to deserve punishment."

Then after a pause, Judge Fisher added: "But it is interesting to note that within less than a year that man himself was convicted of stealing hogs and sentenced to serve a term in the pen."

TWO MORE NAMED IN CAR CHARGE I. W. W.'S, TAKEN OUT BY SHERIFF

New Arrests Not to End Investigation on Car Thefts, Is Word.

Two more arrests, bringing the total up to four in the same connection, were made late yesterday by members of the county sheriff's force and charges of the larceny of an automobile were filed against Claude Hall, Ed Stewart and Eugene Augustus.

All were arraigned and made bond for $2000 each before Justice of the Peace H. J. Brown. The date for their preliminary hearing was set for July 21.

Information filed by County Attorney Wayne Wadlington charges that on July 5 the three men took a touring car valued at $500, belonging to L. A. Thompson of Allen. This is only one day after one of the defendants is alleged to have stolen a car from A. O. Sutton of Maxwell and driven it to Ada for dismantling.

These arrests do not culminate the search for missing cars in the county and the vigilance for automobile thieves, county officers said this morning. Information bearing on the disappearance of cars in the city and county recently is being collected and the investigation of car theft charges is scheduled to open before Justice Brown Tuesday, July 19, and the probe will be continued on Thursday of next week, according to the justice docket.

Details of the new charges in which the three men are named have been reserved for their preliminary hearing.

CHANDLER COMES FOR HOT BATTLE HERE ON SUNDAY

Chandler, Ada's old baseball rival, will attempt to take Ada by storm Sunday when her celebrated baseball club crosses bats with the local club which holds one of the best season records of any amateur team in the state. The Chandler boys also have been making quite a showing this season, according to reports, and expect to continue their lucky streak when they come to Ada.

Manager Sparks has his men in perfect condition and with an opposition in the form of P. Wauer on the mound and Johnnie Cover behind the plate he expects to give Chandler something to think about. The game will be called at 3:30 Sunday afternoon at the Fair Grounds Park. There is no doubt but that this will be one of the best, if not the best, games played on the Ada field this season, Sparks said.

BASEBALL PLAYER IS BELIEVED TO BE DEAD

(By the Associated Press)
BOSTON, July 16.—The probable suicide of Arthur Irwin, an old time baseball player, former manager of Cincinnati and City of New York teams, was reported by officials of the Metropolitan line steamship Calvin Austin when she docked. Irwin, who boarded her at New York, could not be found today. His baggage and some clothing were in the stateroom. He had been ill for a long time.

OLILSON ARRESTED ON GRAND LARCENY CHARGE

Claude Olilson was arraigned this week before Justice of the Peace H. J. Brown on a charge of stealing $50 from Lena Isaah. He made bond for $500 and the date for his preliminary hearing in justice court was set for July 20. Olilson, according to officers, produced part of the money at the time he was arrested and told where the rest of the amount could be found.

MILLING PLANT LATE INDUSTRY

Alfalfa Milling Company Starts Big Operation in City.

The Ada Alfalfa Milling Company, newest of Ada's large industries, has begun turning wheels and is now selling its products throughout the southeastern part of the state. Though conditions keep the mill from operating to full capacity, it does not keep it from selling many car loads every week. The officers point out that the outlook is encouraging indeed, as there is little competition in this state, and business conditions will most certainly improve.

The buildings consist of a large reinforced concrete structure, three stories high, a storage house, and an office building. Before a great while a large warehouse is to be constructed and storage room provided sufficiently to house train loads of raw materials or mixed feeds.

The plant is located on the north end of the joint railroad track traversing the industrial addition. It overlooks the business section of Ada and is visible to those coming in on the Frisco or Katy.

Officers of the new company are R. W. Allen, president and manager; C. W. Zorn, vice-president; and A. D. Allen, secretary and treasurer. The directors are the three officers and C. H. Rives, Joe Stafford, W. M. Haines and J. H. Bullock. All of these men are well known in the county, all being either live business men or prominent and successful farmers.

Many Feeds Prepared
Several kinds of feeds are prepared alfalfa mixtures being the most in evidence. Such feeds as corn chops, kafir chops, and the like are also put out.

Molasses and ground alfalfa make the feed that may prove to be most popular. Alfalfa is shipped in car lots and ground in a giant grinder. It is hoisted from this grinder into a large hopper on top of the building. From there it is fed down through the various troughs, mixing with the molasses on the second floor. The molasses come, in car lots and go into a warming over and then mixed with the ground alfalfa.

Corn is purchased either in car lots or direct from the farmers of the community. Going into the giant jaws of the sheller in full cars and in the shuck, it comes out clean and ready for the meal mills. It will give some idea of the magnitude of the concern to realize that molasses is shipped in tank cars and not barrels. From the cars it is delivered into the reservoir through large rubber hose.

MAYOR SOUNDS CALL FOR CUTTING WEEDS

Already two or three cases have been reported by the police department of people refusing to cut weeds on their property within the city limits. "These weeds must be cut," Mayor Kitchens said today. "I have instructed Sanitary Officer Burnett to see that property owners cut their weeds and all who do not do so within the next few days will be prosecuted."

The city has six men and a mowing machine busy cutting weeds on the streets and this work has been going on for a week. They expect to have the greater part of the weed cutting done in a few days and all property owners have been requested to follow up this work by cutting weeds on vacant lots and alleys.

The time of year and health conditions make it very necessary to keep all weeds cut, it was pointed out, and the city ordinance to this effect will be enforced. Ample time will be given everybody to get the weeds cut before the law takes a hand in the matter, Kitchens said.

FEDERAL CASE AGAINST ROSENBLUTH DROPPED

(By the Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, July 16.—All federal proceedings against Captain Robert Rosenbluth of New York and Sergeant Roland Pothier of Providence, Rhode Island, in connection with the shooting of Major Alexander Cronkhite at Camp Lewis, Washington, in October, 1918, are to be dismissed, it was announced today by Attorney General Daugherty, who made a personal investigation of the case.

Old Fashioned Boy Who Crawled Under the Tent Knew Little of Modern Strategy, Ada Man Says

Days when the village boys crawled under the canvas to see the circus that was playing on the vacant lot haven't entirely passed. Only now the boys and girls, big and little, have put some new wrinkles into beating their way into the movies.

Some of the ingenious methods now being used, not only by the small, freckled faced boy but by old ladies, young men, the middle aged, newlyweds, and orphans, to get an evening's enjoyment of the silent drama were described this morning by Foster McSwain, manager of the McSwain theatre. The schemes they work nowadays would do credit to the strategy of a field marshal, he declares.

Box office employees recently discovered small boys rolling into the theatre from the sidewalk. Many of them had escaped detection from the keeper of the window and the rolling route was discovered to be quite popular.

A few days later, Mr. McSwain noticed an unusual preference for his balcony seats. Every night the gallery was crowded, always with young men. Then by making close observation he discovered that they were entering on the east side of the theatre through big windows that give entrance from the roof of an adjoining furniture store. By barring these windows with iron he managed to decrease the balcony free list for several nights. But the problem was not solved. A week later the top seats were again full.

MOUZON SPEAKER FOR ADA NORMAL "RIGID SILENCE" ON IRISH ISSUE

Noted Methodist Bishop to Deliver Baccalaureate Tomorrow.

All churches of Ada will dismiss their morning service tomorrow and their membership have been urged by pastors to turn out in numbers to the annual baccalaureate sermon to be preached at the Normal Sunday morning at 10:45 by Bishop D. Mouzon, of the Methodist church.

Bishop Mouzon is scheduled to arrive in the city tonight from Oklahoma City and the Normal auditorium is expected to be filled to capacity tomorrow morning, school officials said.

Although no definite program for the baccalaureate services tomorrow have been announced, Dr. A. Linde, president of the Normal, said at noon today that churches of the city would be given a prominent part. Rev. C. C. Morris, pastor of the First Baptist church, will deliver the invocation, Rev. R. C. Taylor, pastor of the Methodist church, will give the scripture reading and Rev. H. M. Woods, pastor of the First Christian church, will pronounce the benediction.

Bishop Mouzon will be entertained while in Ada at the home of Rev. Taylor, an old friend of his, it was announced today. It is thought probable that he will fill the pulpit at the Methodist church Sunday night.

LOCAL LEGIONAIRES FAVOR BONUS MEASURE

Opinions of local former service men who were asked their views on the bonus bill varied but little. Practically all declared themselves in favor of accepting whatever compensation the government might offer, but most of them said they preferring to wait until the wounded, disabled and sick, were adequately provided for before the beginning of payment to able bodied. One man stated that if the treasury was in the condition which Secretary Mello describes he would be willing to wait until a more favorable time for the payment.

Another expressed the fear that the government might wait until a large part of ex-service men should die, thus being relieved of the necessity of making such a large appropriation as would now be required.

VERDICT OF GUILTY FOR MRS. KABER

Convicted Woman Brought to Court Limp and Is Read Sentence.

(By the Associated Press)
CLEVELAND, July 15.—Mrs. Katharine Kaber was found guilty today of murder in the first degree but with a recommendation of mercy by the jury which tried her on a charge of murder in plotting the killing of her husband, Daniel F. Kaber. Under the verdict Mrs. Kaber must pass the remainder of her life in prison.

Although the jury had not yet reported officially to the court, Judge Maurice Bernon announced the decision to Attorney Francis W. Poulson, Mrs. Kaber's personal counsel, so that he might inform Mrs. Kaber in the hope that she might revive sufficiently from her stupor to be brought into the court to hear the official announcement. She had been in a stupor all morning.

Mrs. Kaber was sentenced to life imprisonment in the Ohio reformatory for women at Marysville by Judge Bernon. Under the Ohio law there is no hope for pardon under such a verdict.

Mrs. Kaber is the first woman in Cuyahoga county to be convicted of first degree murder.

Wm. J. Corrigan, Mrs. Kaber's counsel, said he was well satisfied with the verdict. The same expression was made by County Prosecutor Edwin C. Stanton.

The jury announced that it was ready to report the verdict at 8:45 this morning after deliberating, in all, four hours.

Has Nothing to Say.
Mrs. Kaber, according to her counsel, said that she understood what the verdict was, and when she was carried into the court room at 10:30 the jury had not yet been brought in.

The jury was brought in a few minutes later and made its official report of the verdict. Mrs. Kaber, who was lying limp in the arms of a deputy sheriff, was asked if she had anything to say. She merely shook her head. Judge Bernon then pronounced the sentence and Mrs. Kaber was carried back to her cell in the jail.

When informed by Mr. Poulson of the verdict, Mrs. Kaber merely nodded her head, he said, showing no signs of emotion. He told her to receive the verdict and be sentenced and she would have to be taken to the prison Monday. She again nodded her head as he stated this to her.

Took Three Ballots (By the Associated Press)

The jury took only three ballots the first two being nine for mercy and three for first degree murder without mercy. Before balloting the jury discarded the insanity plea. Attorney Poulson said he would not appeal the case.

Mrs. Kaber was said by the attorney to have been practically unconscious last night. She had been carried from the court room and had not eaten during the day.

By a singular coincidence the jury began balloting just two years the third Friday in July from the time Mr. Kaber was stabbed to death by assassins alleged to have been hired by Mrs. Kaber.

Although Mrs. Kaber was believed implicated in her husband's death, insufficient evidence was found then by the officers of which to charge her with the crime. For two years Moses Kaber, the aged father of the murdered man, doggedly kept working on the mystery with the aid of private detectives.

Finally a brother of Mrs. Kaber was brought in as a ruse and her mother, Mrs. Mary Brinkel, who was suspected of knowing much about the murder was led to believe that the son was to be charged with the crime. The ruse worked as it was planned. Mrs. Brinkel, to save the son, is alleged to have confessed, implicating her daughter, Mrs. Kaber, Miss Marian McArdle, daughter of Mrs. Kaber, herself, and others.

Alleged Speedster Caught by New Car for City Officers

Ada cops have made their first exhibition of the use of the new police car last night, when one of them caught a speeding car. The officer was out on the Normal road watching for speedsters when Floy Alexander passed at a high rate of speed, they said. The officer forced him to the curb and made the arrest.

Considerable damage was done to Alexander's car, it is said. He was fined $24.75 by the mayor. "We are after them," the mayor said, "and if we don't catch but one each night it will help."

A SUGGESTED COMPROMISE

The suggestion comes from Washington that a compromise may be reached on the question of a tariff on petroleum, the proposal being to limit the operation of the 35 cents and 25 cents per barrel rates on crude and fuel oil, respectively, to a period of two years.

Certainly that would accomplish the main purpose for which a tariff is being asked. It would enable the army of independent producers to bridge over the present crisis in the oil industry. That is, it would enable them to bridge it over if a tariff at those rates would have that effect if made permanent.

The oil producers are not seeking to hold up the public by endeavoring to create conditions which may make it possible for them to obtain a price for their product in keeping with the cost of production, any more than the cotton farmer is seeking to hold up the public in endeavoring to create such conditions for his product. The competition of Mexican oil, because of the direct effect it has had on the market for fuel oil and the indirect effect on other petroleum products, has been almost ruinous for thousands of producers. No matter what may be said about the matter from an academic standpoint, that fact is indisputable. If some relief is not given, the practical effect is going to be the absolute destruction of a great number of smaller wells. A two-year tariff, therefore, might serve the purpose quite as well as a permanent tariff.

Indeed, we are inclined to think that a great number of other schedules now in the Fordney bill will have to be revised before they are in operation two years. Our whole attitude toward the tariff has been predicated upon the assumption that the Republicans were wedded to the idea of installing the protective system at this time, and that only experience would wean them away from it. In that situation, we have insisted upon an equitably distributed tariff, without discrimination against any section of the country. The Fordney bill is very properly characterized as a manufacturers' bill. If it does not include petroleum finally, it will be treating that raw product in the same fashion that it is treating others. But even in the case of manufacturers, a situation is likely to develop during the next year or so which will make the tariff schedules obstacles to the expansion of our foreign trade, and thus to the normal expansion of our industries.

That, however, is in the future. The Fordney bill is going to become a law, whether one likes it or not. As an emergency measure we would favor a tariff on petroleum in any event. By what process of reasoning is petroleum to be eliminated at the very moment that a general protective policy is to be installed?—Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

LOWER FREIGHT RATES

We can never get back to normalcy until freight rates are reduced. It is folly to talk of reducing greatly the price of many articles until it is possible to ship those articles at considerably less than the present rates. Under normal times the freight on a car of coke into this state was not so noticeable. At this time a car of coke from the Pennsylvania fields requires twice as much money for the freight as for the coke itself.

Certain grades of cheap paper under normal pre-war times laid down in Oklahoma cost around a thousand dollars. The freight alone on a car of such paper now is around $700.

We wonder how it is that a load of cabbage from the Rio Grande valley must bring so much on the markets of the United States. Under normal times, they did cost too much, and inefficient handling was responsible for much of the high cost. Now the freight eats into a load so heavily that the consumer cannot buy at a seemingly reasonable price. Add to the producers' price, the freight and waste and even a fair dealers' profit and the ultimate price is high.

Something will have to be done or freight rates will retard getting back to normal, if normal times are desirable. We cannot turn over half of the wealth to the transportation companies.

We are not saying that the railroads are getting too much money. We are convinced that they are not making any. But we do believe that there is either gross inefficiency in the management, too many men are employed, or there is a great leakage somewhere.

One thing is certain: The consuming public need not expect prices to get back to a pre-war level, generally speaking, until freight rates are reduced from 25 percent to 50 percent.

More industries are to come here soon, we are informed. Towns, like individuals, build because the spirit never stops. We can see Ada a city of 25,000 in five years.

Old timers are reported to be surprised that it can rain on a July night. If nothing more than that ever surprises them, they are lucky guys.

Time for planting fall gardens will soon be here. Don't neglect so great an opportunity. Rainy seasons and fall gardens go together.

The Evening News

Comments given below do not necessarily reflect the opinion of the News. In fact, oftentimes the opinion expressed is directly opposite to that held by the News. The opinions are given, however, because this is a newspaper.

Real Newspapers.
McAlester News-Capital: William Jennings Bryan in one of his frequent visions pictured a national newspaper, devoted to the dissemination of news from Washington. He would publish a paper with dry, abstract items and articles dealing with national affairs. The vision was conceived in all earnestness probably but W. J. B. didn't get anywhere with it because people don't want that kind of newspaper.

Labor unions over the country are proposing, and in some instances creating newspapers devoted to their interests. Several have sprung up only to plod out an uneventful existence or to wither and fall by the wayside. One was started in Ft. Smith, only last year, but aside from its initial splash one hears little of it.

Socialists, inspired by visionary motives are ever and anon establishing papers. One was launched in Oklahoma City last year, which according to the admission of its circulation manager is "on its last legs now." Others hang on, due entirely to the support of their fanatic followers, but without any special influence or prestige. People don't want that kind of a newspaper.

The Kansas City Journal, formerly one of the most influential journals in the southwest, fell into the hands of a railroad some years ago. It shrunk into a poorly patronized sheet, lost caste and was finally sold for a comparatively small sum. Other newspapers owned by great public utilities have always been drains upon the owners. Few if any have ever developed into newspapers of standing. People don't want that kind of newspaper.

Then what kind of a newspaper do people want? The answer is as clear as a cathedral bell note. They want a newspaper that is not tied down to a clique nor group, that is fostered by no society or political organization, that is untrammeled and unafraid. That publishes news for news sake, not for the impression that news will make, and then publishes its own opinions without fear or favor.

The proof of the assertion is the history of the newspaper business. Even the newspapers that bears an eternal political trade mark has fallen into disrepute. It no longer ranks among the best in the journalistic world.

Class, political and trade newspapers are not really newspapers. They are organs for a purpose. People take them for their face value—then buy real newspapers for information and education.

The Boy Scout News

Tents Are Needed.

It is reported from headquarters that the Ada scouts will need several more tents for the camping trip which they plan to take August 1. If any Ada person has a tent to rent, loan or let the scouts use for their two weeks camping trip, Mr. Miller, scout executive, would appreciate their calling 722. They will be taken care of and the boys will be responsible for any damage to them.

First to the Lodge.

Troop 3 will be the first to take advantage of the boy scout lodge at the city lake. They are planning an outing there next Monday night when they will cook the first meal in the camp kitchen, sleep for the first time on the bunks and enjoy the home prepared for them by people of Ada.

They will meet at scout headquarters at 6:30 and from there will go to the lodge on foot. Each boy will need some eggs and bacon to cook and bread, cookies, fruit, sugar and coffee or cocoa, knife and spoon. All are requested to bring bathing suits and a few cents in money.

The examining committee will meet at scout headquarters Tuesday night and all boys wishing to take tests should be there at eight o'clock.

Join the Scouts.

Now is the time for boys to join the scouts. Think of the fun to be had on the camping trip, the enjoyment of the scout lodge this fall and winter, and a chance to take part in the many scout activities being planned. See Mr. Miller at scout headquarters.

Ice Cream for Scouts.

Through the hospitality of Roy L. Givens, manager of the Southern Ice and Utilities Co., all boys working on the Twelfth street park will be given a treat to all the ice cream they can eat one hot day next August. A record of the workers will be kept and invitations to the feast will be extended then.

New Contest Started.

A new contest for honors and prizes in the keeping of Twelfth Street Park is being started this week with a complete set of new prizes being offered by Mayor Kitchena. The first contest was ended with the dedication program of the scout lodge, Troop 3 winning.

Football goods to the value of $12.50 will be the first prize given. $10.00 worth of football goods will be the second prize, and $7.50 worth of football goods the third prize. Judges in the contest will be Mrs. C. A. Galbraith and W. E. Pitts and D. C. Abney.

The party is in charge of former Indian Governor William Neptune. The members of the tribe are expert basket makers and will display their wares.

WILD HORSES ROAMING IN KIAMICHI REGIONS

(By the Associated Press)

STILLWATER, July 16.—When a tale of wild horses in Pushmataha county appeared a few days ago under an Antlers dateline, newspaper readers accepted it with more than one "grain of salt." Tales of wild horses in Oklahoma passed with Washington Irving's tour of the prairies," they said.

But the story is confirmed thru the extension department of the A. & M. College. George Innes, farm demonstration agent for Pushmataha county, is authority for the confirmation. It came to light as a result of the fight that is being waged to rid that county of Texas fever ticks and put the quarantine line further south.

The horses are not of the wild breed of the primeval prairies, tho fully as untamed. The rough, unmaned vastnesses of the Kiamichi mountains foothills are responsible for their condition. A few Texas cow ponies broke away from the ranches, at first, it is supposed. That, probably, was a number of year ago. These, seeking friends on the range, gradually drifted together and became permanent associates. By interbreeding and the later addition of other strays—some of them larger breeds from the farms—the herd has grown to more than 100. Some of the colts and younger grow-ups are fine specimens of horseflesh. Most of them have never felt the touch of a lash or harness.

The problem, now, is to get these animals into dipping vats. Tick cradicking agents have been unable to catch them. One young mare, Innes reports, has been corralled in a ten acre pasture for more than two weeks, but so far, she is still carrying her full quota of ticks. W. A. Murry, a ranchman of Owens, Texas, has written asking the privilege of rounding up the herd. It is probable that a contract will be given him to catch them as estrays, then, after dipping, to bid them in at public sale so that possession of the horses themselves will be pay for his trouble.

A. and M. Grad Now Dean of Department in Her Alma Mater

STILLWATER, July 16.—(Special)—For the first time in the history of Oklahoma Agricultural and Mechanical college, a graduate of the college is to be dean of the school of home economics. Miss Ella Nora Miller, member of the class of 1914, has been chosen by the state board of agriculture to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Miss Ruth Michaels, head of the department for the past six years. Miss Miller and her two sisters—Esther and Mrs. Hilma Miller-Webb—were graduated from A. and M. in the same class. All three have been teachers of domestic art and domestic science. Miss Miller, for three years, was head of the department at Phillips university, Enid, where she took her high school course. She retired from school duty temporarily during the war period, 1917, to do special emergency war work—Red Cross and council of national defense—through the A. and M. extension department—in Alfalfa county. After the signing of the armistice, she returned to Phillips university. The past school year, however, has been spent in Iowa State college, Ames, Ia., where she worked out a master's degree.

LEGION FIGHTS FOR SOLDIER BONUS

MONTH OF WAR IS AS GREAT A COST

National Commander Says
Whole Nation Is on Veteran's Side.

(By the Associated Press)
CHICAGO, July 16.—The fight of the American Legion for the soldier bonus will be continued with renewed vigor, said Major H. G. Emery of Grand Rapids, Michigan, national commander of the Legion, in commenting today on the "side-tracking" of the bonus bill in the senate.

"If the war had continued for another thirty days," he asserted, "it would have cost the government as much as the proposed adjustment compensation program."

Major Emery was here attending the convention of the national association of real estate boards.

"The American Legion program still stands," he said. "We will immediately start a fight for the bonus all over in the house. Our program stands endorsed by two conventions of the Legion, that at Minneapolis in 1919 and that at Cleveland in 1920. We are practically assured that the Sweet bill will be passed."

Harding All Wrong.
"We consider President Harding all wrong in his attitude. Why, the senate finance committee in its report declares untrue the claims advanced that the Sweet bill and the adjustment compensation program will bankrupt the treasury."

Major Emery asserted that the Legion has a well defined program to fight for the bonus and this will not be modified.

"There was at first considerable opposition in the Legion itself to the program but this has now subsided," he said. "Where it existed it was on the part of men well off financially. We have now induced these men to devote their share in the compensation to the men who need it. There are now several millionaires among the strongest supporters of the program we have."

"The wounded and disabled will be taken care of first and then comes those in financial straits due to the war."

"The country as a whole is with us in this. Only Washington, the banks and the associations of commerce are against us."

RAINBOW VETERANS ASK FOR BETTER RELIEF

(By the Associated Press)
CLEVELAND, July 16.—A resolution declaring for more adequate soldier relief was ready for presentation at today's session of the second annual convention of the Rainbow division veterans. The bonus question was left over for the last business meeting.

Rennie Avenue Men Met on Graveling Plan Friday Night

A meeting of property owners of Rennie avenue was held last night at the home of L. A. Braly, fifth and Rennie and an informal discussion of the advisability of graveling the street was held.

J. F. Jackson acted as chairman, after a free discussion of the subject it was unanimously agreed that the street be reduced to grade, according to engineer's plans and specifications, thirty feet wide, including curb and gutter and gravel, eight inches thick, wet and rolled to eight inches.

The chair appointed John W. Beard, L. A. Braly and J. C. Hynds as a committee to draft plans and specifications for such improvement and to secure and receive bids on a cash payment basis. A report will be made to another meeting of the property owners next Tuesday night at 7 o'clock at the same place.

JULY 20 IS DATE SET FOR HEARING ON MARTIN CASES

July 20 has been set for the preliminary hearings of Jim Good, Dick Chapman, and Okey Dyer, arrested last week and charged with the murder of George Martin at Roff last May. Their hearings will be before Justice of the Peace H. J. Brown. All are being held without bond.

Frank McClintock is another who is being held in the county jail awaiting his trial in district court here next October on a charge of killing Martin. He was denied bond recently by the criminal court of appeals.

"I tell you the News want ads certainly bring results," is a statement made every day to the advertising department. Are you getting your share of those results?

There's A Little Meanness And Some Goodness in All. Justice Says of Laws That Rule Society

Every man is a criminal, to a certain extent.

The difference between the man behind the bars and the one who runs free is a matter of who gets caught and who doesn't.

And there is seldom a criminal, even of the deepest dye, who would not see law and order prevail after all is said and done.

This is a few of the deductions that have been made by Justice of the Peace W. H. Fisher, who, after studying the courts, criminals, and even convicts behind the penitentiary bars, has decided that the criminality that convicts and puts behind jail bars is but little more than high development of that strain which we all have in us to a greater or less degree.

"It is surprising to note the in-born reverence which most men have for the laws of society," Justice Fisher said today. "We sometimes are led to believe that the man in prison garb is always chronic bolshevik who would revolutionize society and overthrow law. But I have had it shown to me to my complete satisfaction that this is not the case."

Then Judge Fisher related a bit of his experience as an overseer at the building of the penitentiary walls at McAlester years ago. An unruly prisoner was to be punished. Scornfully to take advantage of the unarmed man, the overseer did the job with his bare hands, only after a long fight. As he stood over the conquered convict, a lifer who was standing near grinned with satisfaction.

Lifer Was Ready
"I was waitin' for him with this

shovel if he got the best of you, boss," the veteran prisoner said calmly.

In all his experiences with men of sundry types, he has scarcely found a one who would not have the rules of society enforced in the end, the Justice declared. And often some of the noblest sentiments come from inveterate law breakers who in all their bitterness toward society, still have within them a lingering spark of humanity, according to the judge.

Another remarkable thing, as set forth by the judge, is the unintentional outcropping of the criminal within every man, sometime in his life. "We are lucky never to have slept inside of a jail—just for the little mean things we have done without thinking," he said, adding an account of his experience at one time with a grand jury in the earlier days of Texas.

"We had almost completed our hearing of the case. All of the witnesses except two had been examined and the jury was about ready to vote on the bill. While we delayed, with nothing to do, someone suggested we hold a 'true meeting' of all our town. Beginning with the foreman, every man on that jury told of something he had done that deserved a spell in jail. One man, however, stoutly declared he had done nothing in his life to deserve punishment."

Then after a pause, Judge Fisher added: "But it is interesting to note that within less than a year that man himself was convicted of stealing hogs and sentenced to serve a term in the pen."

TWO MORE NAMED IN CAR CHARGE

New Arrests Not to End
Investigation on Car
Thefts, Is Word.

Two more arrests, bringing the total up to four in the same connection, were made late yesterday by members of the county sheriff's force and charges of the larceny of an automobile were filed against Claude Hall, Ed Stewart and Eugene Augustus.

All were arraigned and made bond for $2000 each before Justice of the Peace H. J. Brown. The date for their preliminary hearing was set for July 21.

Information filed by County Attorney Wayne Wadlington charges that on July 5 the three men took a touring car valued at $500 belonging to L. A. Thomason of Allen. This is only one day after one of the defendants is alleged to have stolen a car from A. O. Sutton of Maxwell and driven it to Ada for dismantling.

These arrests do not culminate the search for missing cars in the county and the vigilance for automobile thieves, county officers said this morning. Information bearing on the disappearance of cars in the city and county recently is being collected and the investigation of car theft charges is scheduled to open before Justice Brown Tuesday, July 19, and the probe will be continued on Thursday of next week, according to the justice docket.

Details of the new charges in which the three men are named have been reserved for their preliminary hearings.

CHANDLER COMES FOR HOT BATTLE HERE ON SUNDAY

Chandler, Ada's old baseball rival, will attempt to take Ada by storm Sunday when her celebrated baseball club crosses bats with the local club which holds one of the best season records of any amateur team in the state. The Chandler boys also have been making quite a showing this season, according to reports, and expect to continue their lucky streak when they come to Ada.

Manager Sparks has his men in perfect condition and with an opposition in the form of P. Wager on the mound and Johnnie Cover behind the plate he expects to give Chandler something to think about. The game will be called at 2:30 Sunday afternoon at the Fair Grounds Park. There is no doubt but that this will be one of the best, if not the best, games played on the Ada field this season, Sparks said.

I. W. W.'S. TAKEN OUT BY SHERIFF

South Dakota Posse Moves
Rioters from Camp at Aberdeen.

(By the Associated Press)
ABERDEEN, S. D., July 16.—City and county authorities today were on the alert for developments following the deportation last night of 103 alleged members of the I. W. W. by a citizens posse under Sheriff Henry C. Elliott of Brown county, in which Aberdeen is situated. Neighboring towns and villages which have been notified of the movements of the men, were on watch and expect to keep them moving.

The driving out of the men followed a demonstration Friday aimed at securing the release of Harry Casey, who had been arrested Thursday night on a charge of syndicalism. His case was postponed until Monday, the time required to procure a lawyer from Chicago.

Activities of the alleged I. W. W. at the arrangement of Casey in procuring meals in a number of restaurants and refusing to pay for them aroused sentiment against them and when the men went into camp a short distance from the city the citizens took to getting a posse and compelling the alleged I. W. W.'s to "march."

Man Shot by I. W. W.—William H. Huron, S. D., July 16.—William D. Henderson, 23 years old, of Austin, Texas, was shot and killed last night at Wolsley, South Dakota, three miles west of Huron by members of a band of some 300 I. W. W.'s on top of a freight train pulling out of Wolsley for the north when he refused demands of the I. W. W. organizers to take out a card in the organization.

BASEBALL PLAYER IS BELIEVED TO BE DEAD

(By the Associated Press)
BOSTON, July 16.—The probable suicide of Arthur Irwin, an old time baseball player, former manager of Cincinnati and City of New York teams, was reported by officials of the Metropolitan line steamship Calvin Austin when she docked. Irwin, who boarded her at New York, could not be found today. His baggage and some clothing were in the stateroom. He had been ill for a long time.

OLLISON ARRESTED ON GRAND LARCENY CHARGE

Claude Ollison was arraigned this week before Justice of the Peace H. J. Brown on a charge of stealing $50 from Lena Isaah. He made bond for $500 and the date for his preliminary hearing in justice court was set for July 20. Ollison, according to officers, produced part of the money at the time he was arrested and told where the rest of the amount could be found.

MILLING PLANT LATE INDUSTRY

Alfalfa Milling Company
Starts Big Operation
in City.

The Ada Alfalfa Milling Company, newest of Ada's large industries, has begun turning wheels and is now selling its products throughout the southeastern part of the state. Though conditions keep the mill from operating to full capacity, it does not keep it from selling many car loads every week. The officers point out that the outlook is encouraging indeed, as there is little competition in this state, and business conditions will most certainly improve.

The buildings consist of a large reinforced concrete structure, three stories high, a storage house, and an office building. Before a great while a large warehouse is to be constructed and storage room provided sufficiently to house train loads of raw materials or mixed feeds.

The plant is located on the north end of the joint railroad track traversing the industrial addition. It overlooks the business section of Ada and is visible to those coming in on the Frisco or Katy.

Officers of the new company are R. W. Allen, president and manager; C. W. Zorn, vice-president; and A. D. Allen, secretary and treasurer. The directors are the three officers and C. H. Rives, Joe Stafford, W. M. Haines and J. H. Bullock. All of these men are well known in the county, all being either live business men or prominent and successful farmers.

Many Feeds Prepared
Several kinds of feeds are prepared alfalfa mixtures being the most in evidence. Such feeds as corn chops, kafir chops, and the like are also put out.

Molasses and ground alfalfa make the feed that may prove to be most popular. Alfalfa is shipped in car lots and ground in a giant grinder. It is hoisted from this grinder into a large hopper on top of the building. From there it is fed down through the various troughs, mixing with the molasses on the second floor. The molasses come in car lots and go into a warming over and then mixed with the ground alfalfa.

Corn is purchased either in car lots or direct from the farmers of the community. Going into the giant jaws of the sheller in full ears and in the shuck, it comes out clean and ready for the meal mills. It will give some idea of the magnitude of the concern to realize that molasses is shipped in tank cars and not barrels. From the cars it is delivered into the reservoir through large rubber hose.

MAYOR SOUNDS CALL FOR CUTTING WEEDS

Already two or three cases have been reported by the police department of people refusing to cut weeds on their property within the city limits. "These weeds must be cut," Mayor Kitchens said today. "I have instructed Sanitary Officer Burnett to see that property owners cut their weeds and all who do not do so within the next few days will be prosecuted."

The city has six men and a mowing machine busy cutting weeds on the streets and this work has been going on for a week. They expect to have the greater part of the weed cutting done in a few days and all property owners have been requested to follow up this work by cutting weeds on vacant lots and alleys.

The time of year and health conditions make it very necessary to keep all weeds cut, it was pointed out, and the city ordinance to this effect will be enforced. Ample time will be given everybody to get the weeds cut before the law takes a hand in the matter, Kitchens said.

FEDERAL CASE AGAINST ROSENBLUTH DROPPED

(By the Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, July 16.—All federal proceedings against Captain Robert Rosenbluth of New York and Sergeant Roland Pothier of Providence, Rhode Island, in connection with the shooting of Major Alexander Cronkhite at Camp Lewis, Washington, in October, 1918, are to be dismissed, it was announced today by Attorney General Daugherty, who made a personal investigation of the case.

Old Fashioned Boy Who Crawled Under the Tent Knew Little of Modern Strategy, Ada Man Says

Days when the village boys crawled under the canvas to see the circus that was playing on the vacant lot haven't entirely passed. Only now the boys and girls, big and little, have put some new wrinkles into beating their way into the movies.

Some of the ingenious methods now being used, not only by the small, freckled faced boy but by old ladies, young men, the middle aged, newlyweds, and orphans, to get an evening's enjoyment of the silent drama were described this morning by Foster McSwain, manager of the McSwain theatre. The schemes they work nowadays would do credit to the strategy of a field marshal, he declares.

Box office employees recently discovered small boys rolling into the theatre from the sidewalk. Many of them had escaped detection from the keeper of the window and the rolling room was discovered to be quite popular.

A few days later, Mr. McSwain noticed an unusual preference for his balcony seats. Every night the gallery was crowded, always with young men. Then by making close observation he discovered that they were entering on the east side of the theatre through big windows that give entrance from the roof of an adjoining furniture store. By barring these windows with iron he managed to decrease the balcony free list for several nights. But the problem was not solved. A week later the top seats were again full.

MOUZON SPEAKER FOR ADA NORMAL

Noted Methodist Bishop to Deliver Baccalaureate
Tomorrow.

All churches of Ada will dismiss their morning service tomorrow and their membership have been urged by pastors to turn out in numbers to the annual baccalaureate sermon to be preached at the Normal Sunday morning at 10:45 by Bishop D. Mouzon, of the Methodist church.

Bishop Mouzon is scheduled to arrive in the city tonight from Oklahoma City and the Normal auditorium is expected to be filled to capacity tomorrow morning, school officials said.

Although no definite program for the baccalaureate services tomorrow have been announced, Dr. A. Linscheid, president of the Normal, said at noon today that churches of the city would be given a prominent part. Rev. C. C. Morris, pastor of the First Baptist church, will deliver the invocation, Rev. R. C. Taylor, pastor of the Methodist church, will give the scripture reading and Rev. H. M. Woods, pastor of the First Christian church, will pronounce the benediction.

Bishop Mouzon will be entertained while in Ada at the home of Rev. Taylor, an old friend of his, it was announced today. It is thought probable that he will fill the pulpit at the Methodist church Sunday night.

LOCAL LEGIONNAIRES FAVOR BONUS MEASURE

Opinions of local former service men who were asked their views on the bonus bill varied but little. Practically all declared themselves in favor of accepting whatever compensation the government might offer, but most of them said they preferring to wait until the wounded, disabled and sick, were adequately provided for before the beginning of payment to able bodied. One man stated that if the treasury was in the condition which Secretary Mello describes he would be willing to wait until a more favorable time for the payment.

Another expressed the fear that the government might wait until a large part of ex-service men should die, thus being relieved of the necessity of making such a large appropriation as would now be required.

RESERVE BANKS WILL DISCUSS COTTON LOANS

WASHINGTON, July 16.—Governor Harding of the federal reserve board announced today that he would call a conference here next Tuesday of the governors of five reserve banks in the cotton producing section to bring a uniform policy on cotton loans during the coming marketing season.

VERDICT OF GUILTY FOR MRS. KABER

Convicted Woman Brought to Court Limp and Is Read Sentence.

(By the Associated Press)
CLEVELAND, July 15.—Mrs. Katharine Kaber was found guilty today of murder in the first degree but with a recommendation of mercy by the jury which tried her on a charge of murder in plotting the killing of her husband, Daniel F. Kaber. Under the verdict Mrs. Kaber must pass the remainder of her life in prison.

Although the jury had not yet reported officially to the court, Judge Maurice Bernon announced the decision to Attorney Francis W. Poulson, Mrs. Kaber's personal counsel, so that he might inform Mrs. Kaber in the hope that she might revive sufficiently from her stupor to be brought into the court to hear the official announcement. She had been in a stupor all morning.

Mrs. Kaber was sentenced to life imprisonment in the Ohio reformatory for women at Marysville by Judge Bernon. Under the Ohio law there is no hope for pardon under such a verdict.

Mrs. Kaber is the first woman in Cuyahoga county to be convicted of first degree murder.

Wm. J. Corrigan, Mrs. Kaber's counsel, said he was well satisfied with the verdict. The same expression was made by County Prosecutor Edwin C. Stanton.

The jury announced that it was ready to report the verdict at 3:45 this morning after deliberating, in all, four hours.

Has Nothing to Say.
Mrs. Kaber, according to her counsel, said that she understood what the verdict was, and when she was carried into the court room at 10:30 the jury had not yet been brought in.

The jury was brought in a few minutes later and made its official report of the verdict. Mrs. Kaber, who was lying limp in the arms of a deputy sheriff, was asked if she had anything to say. She merely shook her head. Judge Bernon then pronounced the sentence and Mrs. Kaber was carried back to her cell in the jail.

When informed by Mr. Poulson of the verdict, Mrs. Kaber merely nodded her head, he said, showing no signs of emotion. He told her to receive the verdict and be sentenced and she would have to be taken to the prison Monday. She again nodded her head as he stated this to her.

Took Three Ballots (By the Associated Press)

The jury took only three ballots the first two being nine for mercy and three for first degree murder without mercy. Before balloting the jury discarded the insanity plea. Attorney Poulson said he would not appeal the case.

Mrs. Kaber was said by the attorney to have been practically unconscious last night. She had been carried from the court room and had not eaten during the day.

By a singular coincidence the jury began balloting just two years the third Friday in July from the time Mr. Kaber was stabbed to death by assassins alleged to have been hired by Mrs. Kaber.

Although Mrs. Kaber was believed implicated in her husband's death, insufficient evidence was found then by the officers of which to charge her with the crime. For two years Moses Kaber, the aged father of the murdered man, doggedly kept working on the mystery with the aid of private detectives.

Finally a brother of Mrs. Kaber was brought in as a ruse and her mother, Mrs. Mary Brickel, who was suspected of knowing much about the murder was led to believe that the son was to be charged with the crime. The ruse worked as it was planned. Mrs. Brickel, to save the son is alleged to have confessed, implicating her daughter, Mrs. Kaber, Miss Marian McArdle, daughter of Mrs. Kaber, herself, and others.

Alleged Speedster Caught by New Car for City Officers

Ada cops have made their first exhibition of the use of the new police car last night, when one of them caught a speeding car. The officer was out on the Normal road watching for speedsters when Floy Alexander passed at a high rate of speed, they said. The officer forced him to the curb and made the arrest.

Considerable damage was done to Alexander's car, it is said. He was fined $24.75 by the mayor. "We are after them," the mayor said, "and if we don't catch but one each night it will help."

ONE FOUND GUILTY ON CITY APPEAL DOCKET

Three city appeal cases were finished Friday in the county court and many others were booked for hearing today. In one case of the city against Lola Chance and Bill Chance, the latter was found guilty and fined $4. Lola Chance was dismissed. Noah Conley, charged with being drunk, was found not guilty. Eliza Owens, charged with the unlawful possession of intoxicating liquor, was also found not guilty.

"RIGID SILENCE" ON IRISH ISSUE

Discussion Preliminary to Renewing Conference
Kept Secret.

(By the Associated Press)
LONDON, July 16.—What is happening behind the scenes in the consultations of the Irish parties preliminary to renewing the conversations between Eamonn De Valera and Premier Lloyd-George on Monday is screened by what Sir James Craig, the Ulster premier, terms "a rigid silence."

Sir James used the phrase in expressing to interviewers the belief that everything depends on the way the question is handled.

"The slightest indiscretion or misinterpretation," he said, "may easily cause incalculable harm. What will most aid the attainment of peace is for everyone concerned to withhold comment outside of official consultation."

Commissions Will Discuss Rate Cut on Grain and Hay

(By the Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, July 16.—A conference of representatives of the railroad commissions of all states west of the Mississippi, has been called by J. E. Butler, general counsel for the commission to be held in Chicago, July 20. Plans for the case before the interstate commerce commission freight rates reduction on grain and hay will be discussed, it was announced. The case will begin here August 15, before Commissioner Lewis.

(By the Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, July 16.—Approximately $20,000,000 was added to the government's revenue during the fiscal year just ended through the recovery of falsified income tax returns, Commissioner Blair announced today.

Indictments were returned during the year in every section of the country, he said, and many jail sentences have been imposed, ranging from 60 days to one year, in addition to the fines and penalties which have also been assessed.

A SUGGESTED COMPROMISE

The suggestion comes from Washington that a compromise may be reached on the question of a tariff on petroleum, the proposal being to limit the operation of the 35 cents and 25 cents per barrel rates on crude and fuel oil, respectively, to a period of two years.

Certainly that would accomplish the main purpose for which a tariff is being asked. It would enable the army of independent producers to bridge over the present crisis in the oil industry. That is, it would enable them to bridge it over if a tariff at those rates would have that effect if made permanent.

The oil producers are not seeking to hold up the public by endeavoring to create conditions which may make it possible for them to obtain a price for their product in keeping with the cost of production, any more than the cotton farmer is seeking to hold up the public in endeavoring to create such conditions for his product. The competition of Mexican oil, because of the direct effect it has had on the market for fuel oil and the indirect effect on other petroleum products, has been almost ruinous for thousands of producers. No matter what may be said about the matter from an academic standpoint, that fact is indisputable. If some relief is not given, the practical effect is going to be the absolute destruction of a great number of smaller wells. A two-year tariff, therefore, might serve the purpose quite as well as a permanent tariff.

Indeed, we are inclined to think that a great number of other schedules now in the Fordney bill will have to be revised before they are in operation two years. Our whole attitude toward the tariff has been predicated upon the assumption that the Republicans were wedded to the idea of installing the protective system at this time, and that only experience would wean them away from it. In that situation, we have insisted upon an equitably distributed tariff, without discrimination against any section of the country. The Fordney bill is very properly characterized as a manufacturers' bill. If it does not include petroleum finally, it will be treating that raw product in the same fashion that it is treating others. But even in the case of manufacturers, a situation is likely to develop during the next year or so which will make the tariff schedules obstacles to the expansion of our foreign trade, and thus to the normal expansion of our industries.

That, however, is in the future. The Fordney bill is going to become a law, whether one likes it or not. As an emergency measure we would favor a tariff on petroleum in any event. By what process of reasoning is petroleum to be eliminated at the very moment that a general protective policy is to be installed?—Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

LOWER FREIGHT RATES

We can never get back to normalcy until freight rates are reduced. It is folly to talk of reducing greatly the price of many articles until it is possible to ship those articles at considerably less than the present rates. Under normal times the freight on a car of coke into this state was not so noticeable. At this time a car of coke from the Pennsylvania fields requires twice as much money for the freight as for the coke itself.

Certain grades of cheap paper under normal pre-war times laid down in Oklahoma cost around a thousand dollars. The freight alone on a car of such paper now is around $700.

We wonder how it is that a load of cabbage from the Rio Grande valley must bring so much on the markets of the United States. Under normal times, they did cost too much, and inefficient handling was responsible for much of the high cost. Now the freight eats into a load so heavily that the consumer cannot buy at a seemingly reasonable price. Add to the producers' price, the freight and waste and even a fair dealers' profit and the ultimate price is high.

Something will have to be done or freight rates will retard getting back to normal, if normal times are desirable. We cannot turn over half of the wealth to the transportation companies.

We are not saying that the railroads are getting too much money. We are convinced that they are not making any. But we do believe that there is either gross inefficiency in the management, too many men are employed, or there is a great leakage somewhere.

One thing is certain: The consuming public need not expect prices to get back to a pre-war level, generally speaking, until freight rates are reduced from 25 percent to 50 percent.

More industries are to come here soon, we are informed. Towns, like individuals, build because the spirit never stops. We can see Ada a city of 25,000 in five years.

Old timers are reported to be surprised that it can rain on a July night. If nothing more than that ever surprises them, they are lucky guys.

Time for planting fall gardens will soon be here. Don't neglect so great an opportunity. Rainy seasons and fall gardens go together.

The Evening News Press

Comments given below do not necessarily reflect the opinion of the News. In fact, oftentimes the opinion expressed is directly opposite to that held by the News. The opinions are given, however, because this is a newspaper.

Real Newspapers.

McAlester News-Capital: William Jennings Bryan in one of his frequent visions pictured a national newspaper, devoted to the dissemination of news from Washington. He would publish a paper with dry, abstract items and articles dealing with national affairs. The vision was conceived in all earnestness probably but W. J. B. didn't get anywhere with it because people don't want that kind of newspaper.

Labor unions over the country are proposing, and in some instances creating newspapers devoted to their interests. Several have sprung up only to plod out an uneventful existence or to wither and fall by the wayside. One was started in Ft. Smith, only last year, but aside from its initial splash one hears little of it.

Specialists, inspired by visionary notions are ever and anon establishing papers. One was launched in Oklahoma City last year, which according to the admission of its circulation manager is "on its last legs now." Others hang on, due entirely to the support of their fanatic followers, but without any special influence or prestige. People don't want that kind of a newspaper.

The Kansas City Journal, formerly one of the most influential journals in the southwest, fell into the hands of a railroad, and in a few years ago it shrank into a poorly patronized sheet, lost caste and was finally sold for a comparatively small sum. Other newspapers owned by great public utilities have always been drains upon the owners. Few if any have ever developed into newspapers of standing. People don't want that kind of newspaper.

Then what kind of a newspaper do people want? The answer is as clear as a cathedral bell note. They want a newspaper that is not tied down to a clique nor group, that is fostered by no society or political organization, that is untrammeled and unafraid. That publishes news for news sake, and for the improvement of the community, and then publishes its own opinions without fear or favor.

The proof of the assertion is the history of the newspaper business. Even the newspapers that bear an eternal political trade mark have fallen into disrepute. It no longer ranks among the best in the journalistic world.

Class, political and trade newspapers are not really newspapers. They are organs for a purpose. People take them for their face value—then buy real newspapers for information and education.

The Boy Scout News

Tents Are Needed.

It is reported from headquarters that the Ada scouts will need several more tents for the camping trip which they plan to take August 1. If any Ada person has a tent to rent, loan or let the scouts use for their two weeks camping trip, Mr. Miller, scout executive, would appreciate their calling 722. They will be taken care of and the boys will be responsible for any damage to them.

First to the Lodge.

Troop 3 will be the first to take advantage of the boy scout lodge at the city lake. They are planning an outing there next Monday night when they will cook the first meal in the camp kitchen, sleep for the first time on the bunks and enjoy the home prepared for them by people of Ada.

They will meet at scout headquarters at 6:30 and from there will go to the lodge on foot. Each boy will need some eggs and bacon to cook and bread, cookies, fruit, sugar and coffee or cocoa, knife and spoon. All are requested to bring bathing suits and a few cents in money.

The examining committee will meet at scout headquarters Tuesday night and all boys wishing to take tests should be there at eight o'clock.

Join the Scouts.

Now is the time for boys to join the scouts. Think of the fun to be had on the camping trip, the enjoyment of the scout lodge this fall and winter, and a chance to take part in the many scout activities being planned. See Mr. Miller at scout headquarters.

Ice Cream for Scouts.

Through the hospitality of Roy L. Givens, manager of the Southern Ice and Utilities Co., all boys working on the Twelfth street park will be given a treat to all the ice cream they can eat one hot day next August. A record of the workers will be kept and invitations to the feast will be extended then.

New Contest Started.

A new contest for honors and prizes in the keeping of Twelfth Street Park is being started this week with a complete set of new prizes being offered by Mayor Kitchens. The first contest was ended with the dedication program of the scout lodge, Troop 3 winning.

Football goods to the value of $12.50 will be the first prize given. $10.00 worth of football goods will be the second prize, and $7.50 worth of football goods the third prize. Judges in the contest will be Mrs. C. A. Galbraith and W. E. Pitts and D. C. Abney.

WILD HORSES ROAMING IN KIAMIHI REGIONS

(By the Associated Press)

STILLWATER, July 16.—When a tale of wild horses in Pushmataha county appeared a few days ago under an Antlers dateline, newspaper readers accepted it with more than one "grain of salt." Tales of wild horses in Oklahoma passed with Washington Irving's tour of the prairies," they said.

But the story is confirmed thru the extension department of the A. & M. College. George Innes, farm demonstration agent for Pushmataha county, is authority for the confirmation. It came to light as a result of the fight that is being waged to rid that county of Texas fever ticks and put the quarantine line further south.

The horses are not of the wild breed of the primeval prairies, tho fully as untamed. The much-manned vastnesses of the Kiamichi mountains foothills are responsible for their condition. A few Texas cow ponies broke away from the ranches, at first, it is supposed. That, probably, was a number of years ago. These, seeking friends on the range, gradually drifted together and became permanent associates. By interbreeding and the later addition of other strays—some of them larger breeds from the farms—the herd has grown to more than 100. Some of the colts and younger grown-ups are fine specimens of horseflesh. Most of them have never felt the touch of a lash or harness.

The problem, now, is to get these animals into dipping vats. Tick cradling agents have been unable to catch them. One young mare, Innes reports, has been corralled in a ten acre pasture for more than two weeks, but so far, she is still carrying her full quota of ticks. W. A. Murry, a ranchman of Owens, Texas, has written asking the privilege of rounding up the herd. It is probable that a contract will be given him to catch them as strays, then, after dipping to bid them in at public sale so that possession of the horses themselves will be pay for his trouble.

A. and M. Grad Now Dean of Department in Her Alma Mater

STILLWATER, July 16.—(Special)—For the first time in the history of Oklahoma Agricultural and Mechanical college, a graduate of the college is to be dean of its school of home economics. Miss Elora Nora Miller, member of the class of 1914, has been chosen by the state board of agriculture to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Miss Ruth Michaels, head of the department for the past six years. Miss Miller and her two sisters—Esther and Mrs. Hilma Miller-Webb—were graduated from A. and M. in the same class. All three have been teachers of domestic art and domestic science. Miss Miller, for three years, was head of the department at Phillips university, Enid, where she took her high school course. She retired from school duty temporarily during the war period, 1917, to do special emergency work with national defense through the A. and M. extension department—in Alfalfa county. Then, after the signing of the armistice, she returned to Phillips university. The past school year, however, has been spent in Iowa State college, Ames, Ia., where she worked out a master's degree.

Thursday night, unchaperoned and unannounced, the Rebekah Lodge made a surprise call on the subordinate lodge of Odd Fellows and with a bountiful supply of ice cream and cake served a repast which was much enjoyed by all present.

The subordinate lodge had just closed an evening of strenuous work when the Rebekahs announced themselves. The doors of the hall were thrown open and a social hour was enjoyed. Some of the young ladies visiting furnished music after which a few short addresses were made. Members of the lodge tried to express their appreciation to the ladies and extended an invitation to them to call at any time.

MANY LOCAL VETERANS HELPED BY RED CROSS

A tentative weekly report showing heavy activities being carried on by the Red Cross in Ada and Pontotoc county was submitted today by Mrs. Orville Snead, head of the local chapter.

During the last week she has filed six new claims for compensation to sick and disabled veterans of the world war. She has information already of three more who will see her next week. She secured in the same week two $100 state bonuses. One former soldier has already gone to a hospital on Red Cross transportation and two others have their transportation but have not yet gone.

Beside the soldier relief work, Mrs. Snead says she is increasingly busy with charitable work. The Red Cross has furnished several typhoid patients with necessary furnishings and supplied, and through Mrs. Snead has investigated several more cases. According to Mrs. Snead typhoid is spreading and she has new calls almost every day for assistance in these cases.

Beginning next week a weekly report will be compiled by Mrs. Snead of all the operations and details of the Red Cross work in this county. There will also be published a monthly summary of this work.

CHARGE TULSA CHIEF WITH HELPING FRAUD

(By the Associated Press)
TULSA, July 16.—Further evidence was offered this morning by the state on the automobile conspiracy charge against Chief of Police John A. Gustafson, suspended and on trial for removal in the district court.

The state alleged that the police, with the knowledge and consent of the chief, were parties to a plot to have automobiles stolen to collect insurance and get rewards. This is the second of four counts against the chief, the state having finished the evidence relating to the alleged failure to prevent the race riots. Attorney General S. P. Freeling who has been conducting the prosecution, left today for Tennessee, where, he announced, his grandmother is seriously ill.

Libel Charge Dropped.

Lietzbach failed to appear to press the charges. Costs were assessed to Totten and Gomason.

Irish Truce Is Kept.

(By the Associated Press)
DUBLIN, July 16.—Eamonn Duggan, chief Sinn Féin liaison officer with the British military authorities, declared today that a truce which began Monday had been well kept by both sides. A few disorders in Limerick and other localities had occurred on the part of the police against the spirit of the truce, he said, but orders issued at the military headquarters would prevent repetition.

IN BED EIGHT MONTHS

Cause—Change of Life. How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Got Me Up

Afton, Tenn.—"I want other suffering women to know what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. During the Change of Life I was in bed for eight months and had two good doctors treating me but they did me no good. A friend advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which I did, and in a short time I felt better. I had all kinds of bad spells, but they all left me. Now when I feel weak and nervous I take the Vegetable Compound and it always does me good. I wish all women would try it during the Change of Life for I know it will do them good. If you think it will induce some one to try the Vegetable Compound you may publish this letter."

—Mrs. A. KELLER, Afton, Tennessee.
Women from forty-five to fifty years of age should take warning from such symptoms as heat flashes, palpitation of the heart, smothering or fainting spells, or spots before the eyes, and prepare their system for this perfectly natural change by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It has helped many, many women through this trying period, just as it did Mrs. Keller.

The Pontotoc Petroleum trust well, on the Interluter farm in section 4-4-5, which has been shut down for several days awaiting the arrival of supplies, has resumed drilling at about 700 feet. Considerable hard formation has been encountered, but progress on the well has been satisfactory. It is said.

Transcontinental well, in 14-5-4 was at a depth of 2080 feet this morning, drilling about 20 feet in a hard gray limestone.

The Abernathy well in 8-4-3, was reported today to be drilling at about 600 feet after a brief delay.

Estimated production in the fields of the Mid-Continent at the close of the past week was as follows:

North Louisiana, 71,600 barrels; Arkansas, 52,000 barrels; North Texas, 181,530 barrels; Kansas, 95,000 barrels; Oklahoma, outside of Cushing, Shamrock and Healdton, 232,000 barrels; Cushing and Shamrock, 26,500 barrels; Healdton and Hewitt, 66,000 barrels; total 724,630 barrels, a gain of 5,855 barrels in comparison with the preceding week.

The estimated daily production of heavy gravity oil in the Gulf Coast field was 75,270 barrels. Oil & Gas Journal.

SCOUTS TO START CAMP TRIP AUG. 1

Ada Boys Will Take Annual Outing at Devil's Den Near Tishomingo.

Ada Boy Scouts received with joy yesterday the announcement from Scout Executive Harry W. Miller that the annual camping trip would be held at Devil's Den near Tishomingo this summer, beginning August 1. County trucks will be used for transportation and the entire trip will cost each scout a total of $9.00, possibly less, including transportation, eats, tents, beds and other camp necessities.

Boys who intend to go on the trip should see Mr. Miller as soon as possible and make arrangements. Those who decide at the last minute will not be given the same consideration as those who prepare early. Miller said, adding that it behooves every scout to be prepared when the time comes. Early Monday morning August 1, the trucks will pull up in front of scout headquarters and be loaded with boys, baggage, eats and camping equipment.

Fishing, swimming and other camp life favorite pastimes will be held at Devil's Den. "This will be the chance of a lifetime for the Ada scouts to have a real corking good time for a very small amount of money. This is possible only through the efforts of those who are interested in the movement," local scout men said.

This trip was postponed several weeks ago because the scout lodge at the lake was incomplete.

MOST SCHOOLS VOTE HIGHEST MILL LEVY

Thirteen out of twenty school boards of the county voted their maximum levy of 10 mills for this fiscal year at their annual meeting Tuesday, according to incomplete returns compiled this morning at the office of County Superintendent A. Floyd. In addition to this, a five mill levy is provided by the constitution.

Mr. Floyd has been busy for the last few days approving and advising boards in the formation of their annual budget for the present fiscal year. These, in general, will run about the same as last year with practically no reduction in the salaries of teachers, the superintendent believes. All reports were expected to be received at the superintendent's office here by this afternoon or Monday morning.

Some school districts of the county voted as low as three mills, others running up the scale to the maximum. Expenses of a few districts in the county make possible a low school levy, Mr. Floyd explained. A special election to allow the levying of 25 mills by districts is expected to be called in November by the governor.

Remember fried chicken is one of the three kinds of meat served every Sunday at The Home Dining Room, where everything is cooked in home style and served in home style, and you eat and drink all you want for fifty cents.

HOT, DIZZY FEELING

Atlanta Lady's Uncomfortable and Annoying Condition Relieved, She Says, by Cardui.

Atlanta, Ga.—Miss Alice Frances Young, of 28 East Alexander Street, this city, says: "After entering womanhood, I suffered so much with womanly weakness. My back ached. I would have, at certain times, a hot feeling that seemed to go to my head. Even my shoulders would hurt, and it made me very dizzy and uncomfortable. When the blood would flow to my head—I suppose that was what it was—I would faint and feel so weak. 'I couldn't do my work. I had a good position, and this was surely annoying as well as embarrassing. I would usually have to go home and go to bed. I certainly suffered greatly. I heard of Cardui, and my mother bought it for me. It was the first and only medicine that ever did me any good for this trouble.'

Dizziness, headache, vertigo, backache, tired-out feeling and other disagreeable symptoms are often signs of womanly troubles. Thousands of women who formerly suffered from these and similar ailments have found Cardui a very valuable remedy. Cardui is composed only of pure, vegetable ingredients which have long been recognized as of medicinal value in the treatment of many diseases and disorders peculiar to women.

Take Cardui. Your druggist sells it. NO-349

McSWAIN THEATER

To Start Second Year With Big Attraction Monday, July 18.

There's always enormous advertising value to the exhibitor in showing a picture adapted from a story by a popular writer. "Midsummer Madness" is based upon Cosmo Hamilton's novel, "His Friend and His Wife."

As a writer of thrilling society novels and plays, Cosmo Hamilton ranks with Robert W. Chambers. Mr. Hamilton's play, "Scandal," ran for over a year in New York. His "The Blindness of Virtue" was equally popular. His "Who Cares?" was a screen hit. "Men, Women and Money," from a short story by Mr. Hamilton, was a successful Ethel Clayton picture.

"Midsummer Madness" was published originally as a serial in Green Book Magazine and pleased that publication's 100,000 readers. Later brought out in book form, it has been a "best seller" all over the country.

In cast, original story, and producer, "Midsummer Madness" is 100 per cent perfect. It is destined to smash big-money records all over the country.

MONDAY Midsummer Madness MONDAY

McSwain's First Anniversary Screen Offering

It is with a great deal of pleasure and much pride that we can offer our patrons such a picture at this wonderful Paramount special, "Mid-Summer Madness" on this our first anniversary. I frankly confess that in my opinion it is the most flawless picture I have ever seen.

It follows the highest technical standards of motion picture making as well as the dramatic construction of a spoken play. I am convinced it will please and entertain you.

One year ago, Monday, July 18, the McSwain Theatre opened its doors to the people of Ada. The foremost thought in our mind was put in practice to offer clean, wholesome entertainment. To show the very best pictures that could be bought and cater to ladies and gentlemen. It has been a trying year and we most surely appreciate the patronage you have given us. We are glad to say without fear of contradiction that we have kept our program up to the standard and in starting our second year we have picked the best to be had in photoplays, Paramount special "Mid-Summer Madness."

This one of Paramount's super-specials and has been shown every where at fifty cents admission. But we want you to come and celebrate with us on this date, will have special music, a cool house and comfortable seats, our price, 10c and 30c.

SUPPORT OF H. S. ACTIVITY URGED

Fentem Makes Plea That Town Encourage Its Student Work.

By A. L. Fentem, Principal Ada High School

The citizenship of Ada probably does not realize what is required to provide for the activities of the boys and girls of high school age in the community nor of how much benefit these activities are, not only to the boy and girl, but to the community at large as well. Besides furnishing for Ada upon any and all occasions a first class boys band, an orchestra that, for the age and experience of the players, is hard to beat, readers and singers galore, it has furnished as fine a set of representative boys and girls as can be found in any city of its size in the state as the ground work for the worth of the next generation.

The community interest is kept alive in all these boys and girls through these activities and all of them who have come in touch with these features of school life are as thoroughly sensitive to the interests of Ada as their fathers and mothers and are just as capable of rendering valuable community service in their lines. No enterprise of the town escapes their notice and the appreciation which they are capable of manifesting will come as a distinct surprise to those who imagine that boys and girls do not have the welfare of the community in which they live at heart.

Encourage Activities

It is no mistake on the part of any parent to encourage his boy or his girl to attach himself or herself to some of these activities. The athletics, the band, the orchestra, the glee clubs, the High "Y", the debating clubs, and literary societies all furnish opportunity for this sort of development and certainly every boy and girl who goes to the high school can find in those that are being maintained in the local school one that is suited to his and her taste and ability. It is the earnest desire of the administration that every student get into one or another of these organizations. So great has been the influence in the school in this direction that only a very small percentage of the students were not in some definite way connected with some activity.

The maintenance of these activities in the high school is not provided for in the budget, nor yet, as in the case of other institutions, by a fee or charge. Therefore, they must be maintained by the personal sacrifices of those who engage in and direct them. Of course, as long

The Most Beautiful Car in America

All This For $1635

There is an air of distinction about the New Series "Glenbrook" that you will find in no other moderate priced, five-passenger car. That is why it has been adopted by really smart people who will not tolerate the commonplace.

Then, remember, it not only looks but acts the thoroughbred. Under the hood there is a marvelously efficient motor that accelerates from five to twenty five miles per hour in nine seconds flat. This means giant energy for hills and every test of the highway.

Last, but not least, the "Glenbrook" is a rigid Economist. It extracts every atom of power from a gallon of gasoline and turns up surprising mileage on a set of tires. It is a thrift car with a keen sporting personality—a very hard combination to find.
